

WELCOME TO GREECE

The National team of Greece

Good luck Australia

THEO MARMARAS,
J.P., M.B.E.,
President of the Victorian Soccer Federation.

TODAY we welcome another top international team to Olympic park — the Greek national team — and it gives us great pleasure to see our old friends and rivals here to show us their skills.

Greece have always been a hard team for the Socceroos to beat.

They have always produced exciting, entertaining football. Today will be no exception.

I wish to express my personal thanks on behalf of the Australian Soccer Federation and all soccer supporters to my vice-president Mr Michael Weinstein, B.E.M., for being instrumental in arranging this tour and as a matter of courtesy to him and Victoria, the ASF decided to play the first game of the three-match Test series in Melbourne.

We will be constantly calling on the Socceroos to play more and more international and representative games in the future because of our next World Cup challenge for 1982.

It will be hard on the players but the reward will be gratifying especially for those who wear the green and gold for our next Cup challenge.

We all wish our national team success. They have a great responsibility today.

We wish them luck especially our youngsters.

— Sir Arthur George Theo Marmaras

Socceroos are on the road to Spain...

Today, we have the pleasure of welcoming the Greek National team for the first of a series of three International matches.

Their other two games will be in Adelaide on Wednesday June 14th, and in Sydney on Sunday, June 18th.

After our failure to qualify for the World Cup '78, we now embark on the task of rebuilding for our next tilt at qualifying and these matches will provide invaluable international experience for our younger players.

Newcomers to the international scene who will be on parade today include Peter Laumets of Preston, Chris Kalafatis of South Melbourne, Joe Plicione of Footscray, David Jones of West Adelaide, Steve Kokoska of Sunshine City, and John Davies of Canberra City.

We wish them, and all the rest of the team, the very best of luck and hope that today represents the first step on the road to Spain 1982.

PETER LAUMETS (Preston) 21, Height 6', Weight 11st. Preston paid Altona City $8,000 for this brilliant young goalkeeper at the start of the 1975 season and think he was worth every penny. Has already played for Victoria and is certain to gain further 'caps'.

GARY COLE (Fitzroy United), 22 Height 6'1", Weight 14st. English born Gary is the most improved striker in Australian soccer. His career began with South Yarra in the Victorian Fourth Division, followed by a four year stint with Ringwood City, before he moved to Fitzroy in 1976. Fitzroy's top goal-scorer last season with 11 goals, and has played for Victoria's U/16 and Senior sides, and twice for Australia 'B'.

JOHN DAVIES (Canberra City) 22, Midfield 1 cap. A quiet and skilful player who made his only international appearance in 1976 against Hong Kong in Canberra. Has the ability to become a top international performer.

JIM SHOULDER
(Coach)

CHRIS KALAFATIDIS (South Melbourne) 20, Height 5'10", Weight 12st, Australian Under 16, 17 & 18 level, and then a member of the Australian Under 18 brightest young stars, squad.

STEVE KOKOSKA today's squad, Steve (Essendon) 25, Height came up through Sunshine City's junior ranks One of the only two to star in their League State League players in side before being transferred last year to Essendon for $7,000. A strong centre-back, he is exceptionally fast and has exceptional ability in the air.

JACK REILLY (South Melbourne) 32, Height 6'2", Weight 11st. One of the most experienced goalkeepers ever to play in Australia, Jack arrived here from Scotland in 1969, after playing for Hibernian. He first played for Hakoah in Melbourne before transferring to St. George in '71. Played superbly for the Socceroos in West Germany in the '74 World Cup, then stood out of National selection owing to business commitments. Joined Fitzroy United late in '74 and was player-coach there before joining South at the start of the Phillips League.

BEWARE OF T

It has been observed that custom and heredity tend to dominate the style of football of some national teams, so that even the most inventing coaches are incapable of bringing about changes to the historical pattern of play.

The summarised outcome of the prolonged observation of a group of world leading coaches, stands in parallel with a number of opinions expressed by Greek or foreign coaches periodically associated with the Greek national team or individual clubs.

As they always argued, the above progress regulating factors have such a strong bearing on the Greek players either on national or club level that in the majority of cases their failure to fulfil their laudable ambitions to challenge the supremacy of their European competitors has resulted from their inability to free themselves from their obsolete football style and adopt modern tactics displayed by leading football countries or taught and well accepted by distinguished football educators.

The power of custom dominates the selection of players.

It is unforgivable to a coach to drop a star from his team even for disciplinary reasons.

Stars have always had a place in the team even at times that their only qualification for winning selection for the game is merely their name only.

The influence of heredity is expressed with the retention of the outdated positional football and it is heredity that has caused incalculable clashes between the players and coaches bearers of the contemporary concepts of football.

While there is practically no obsession with positions in updated football, a number of naturally gifted players have been wasted over the years due to their strict conformity to heredity thus transforming themselves from participants otherwise to idle viewers of the play at the opposite end of the field.

It is necessary to mention though that the only player of the last twenty years that broke the barriers was the memorable Takis-Loukandis, a giant that could even interchange with his goalkeeper with equal success if not better in his own unique style.

Another progress suspending factor is the values placed on money and sports achievement.

Although the Greeks get great satisfaction from representing their club or country successfully, their attitude seems to be affected at times by their commercial interests thus making them anxious to protect themselves more than offer it to the glory of the club or country.

But the wind of change has been blowing within the ranks of the national team since present coach Alkettas Panagoulas took over.

His introduction to modern football assisted him in making a quick but successful diagnosis of the problem.

He attempted a deep incision in to the establishment and poured streams of new blood into the national team.

And it worked. The virtues of the younger players, discipline aggression, dedication contributed positively in lifting substantially the performances of the teams as they were proportionately blended with valuable experience.

For their second visit to Australia the Greeks are aiming for better results than those achieved in 1969 when for the first time ever a Greek national representative team visited this country.

In a series of five Games in three states they lost two games in Sydney, one in Brisbane and bettered their record in Melbourne with a win and a draw.

The results were:

Sydney: Australia v Greece 1-0; N.S.W. v Greece 1-0.

Brisbane: Australia v Greece 2-0.

Melbourne: Australia v Greece 0-2; Victoria v Greece 0-0.

The brilliance of world cup goalkeeper Jack Reilly helped the Socceroos to win the return game in Athens (1970), with the margin 3-1.

Almost a quarter of a million of Greeks, residing in Melbourne have been living in agony since the day the V.S.F. chairman and international tournament promoter Mr Michael Weinstein confirmed publicly his negotiations with the Greek authorities.

Will they or will they not accept the invitation of the V.S.F.?

This was the question torturing everybody's mind.

And if they accept will they fulfil the term's of their contract or will they fail to turn up in the same fashion that PAOK did previously?

Well, the fears are over.

The national team has honoured its contract and for the thousands of Greeks here in Victoria it is not simply a football game, it is a national event.

Olympic Park will return to the past today as the turnstiles will turn Red-Hot to pack in the record crowd.

The official 17 member Squad Selected from 43 candidates is as follows:—

Petros Ravousis: (1954) His selection is the reward for his outstanding performances. He is a fine footballer and a rare character. He plays for A.E.K. of Athens the team which made the double this year.

Anthimos Kapels: (1951) His leadership is inspiring for the defending line. A member of the 1974 world cup squad plays for Panathinaikos.

Nicolaos Christidis: (1944) formerly of Aris of Salonika he joined A.E.K. of Athens after a long spell. His valuable experience has gained the position in the first team and his recent form made him the better choice for the national coach. He was a member of the 1974 world cup squad. One of the country's finest goalkeepers.

Georgios Firos: (1955) impressive young goalkeeper. Plays for Aris of Salonika.

John Kyrastras: (1956) One of the youngest members of the team, is with Olympiakos of Piraeus.

Constantinos Iosifidis: (1954) He leads the group of the Southern Greece Stars. Plays for PAOK of Salonika.

Panagiotis Pandellis: (1957) The youngest member of the visitors known as the most versatile youngster in Greece. Plays for Apollo of Athens.

Thomas Mavros: (1954): Mavros joined A.E.K. from Panionios and he is amongst the most highly paid players. His transfer almost sparked the war between the two clubs, and he was released to A.E.K. after a series of public arguments between clubs and authorities. His unpredictable talent has risen him between the top players of Europe.

Giannis Damanakis: (1952) A crowd pleasing performer with his skills plays for Paok of Salonika.

Christos Zlakos: (1955) A mature player for his age knows in detail the secrets of the round goddess plays for Apollo of Athens.

Georgios Coudas: (1946) Nick-named the "Stag" Koudas is the sole pride of PAOK supporters. His acceleration on and off the ball, and his goal nous have placed him amongst the top ten footballers of the last decade. One of the oldest members of the national squad he represented the country in the 1970 world cup games, scoring one of the four goals in Salonika against Switzerland. The stinging striker plays for PAOK.

Georgios Tziavoglou: (1956): A young prospect could have a better record if playing for one of the top teams. Plays for Apollo of Athens.

Rigani Eduard Kondogeorgakis: (1949) The Portuguese born Greek became famous for his tireless runs on the right wing. Another crowd entertainer with his unpredictable breaks. Plays for Pas Ioannina.

Constantinos Orfanos: (1953) The aggressive fighter dominates with his style. Plays for PAOK.

Petros Karavitis: (1952) The "Ghost" destroys the opposing defences unnoticed. Plays for Olympiakos.

Dimitrios Gesios: (1948) One of the most experienced players. At the age of 30 he is an exemplary trier. Plays for Heracles of Salonika.

GALAKOS

Charalambos Xanthopoulos: (1956) He combines skill and power with an unusual easiness for his age. Plays for Heracles of Salonika.

NIKOLAOU

The Roumanians won both games 2-1 in Athens and the home game 3-0.

The West Germans dashed their hopes in 1962. In Athens they snatched an easy 3-0 win that helped to achieve another good result, 2-1 for the home game.

The final knock came from Belfast where the Northern Irish took revenge (2-0) for their loss in Athens 2-1.

Things improved slightly during the 1966 games.

Winning the first two games Denmark, 4-2, Wales 2-0. In Athens were struck by the Russians 4-1.

The situation reversed with the away games.

Drew with Denmark 1-1

lost to Russia 3-1 and unexpectedly to Wales 4-1, finishing third in the group.

The nearest they came to qualifying for the finals was in 1970.

Three times, grabbed the lead which they finally dropped for the Roumanians who managed to keep them on a 1-1 draw.

Against Portugal, Switzerland and Roumania they recorded:

Greece v Switzerland 4-1.

Greece v Portugal 4-2.

Greece v Roumania 2-2.

Switzerland v Greece 1-0.

Portugal v Greece 2-2.

Roumania v Greece 1-1

But the most discouraging appearance was the 1974 crumbling, with four defeats from equal number of games.

It was a last minute defeat from Spain 3-2 in Athens. In Belgrade the result was 1-0, but in Athens the Yugoslavs scored a convincing 4-2.

In Spain they were mercilessly beaten again 3-1.

And finally for the 1978 Cup in Argentina they added another disappointing record.

They shared the points with Russia 2-0 away and 1-0 home, but they lost the deciding game in Budapest against Hungary 3-0, following a drawn result 1-1 in Athens.

INTERNATIONAL RECORD

Since the formation of the Hellenic Football Federation the national team has lined-up for 161 international games most of which within the European region.

According to the record they won 42, Drew 32 and Lost 87. During these matches they have scored 1 goals, and conceded 2.

1954 with regular participation from then on.

Once again they surrendered the points they earned beating Israel 1-0 in Athens, 2-0 in Tel Aviv to Yugoslavia that qualified with two narrow wins both 1-0.

For the 1958 competition they failed miserably against Roumania and Yugoslavia. They drew 0-0 in Athens against the Yugoslavs but collapsed in Belgrade 4-1.

WORLD CUP RECORD

With their participation to the 11th world cup qualifying rounds, Greece's added another unsuccessful attempt to their previous record, thus increasing to nine, since the introduction of the World Cup competition.

Their first appearance was back to 1930.

Matched with Italy consequently world champions they were defeated away.

With fresh hopes turned for the 1938 preliminary rounds.

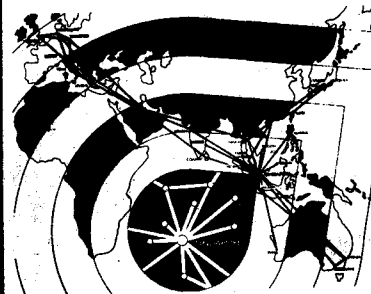

They opened with two wins against Palestine 3-0 in Tel Aviv and 1-0 in Athens.

But their advancement to the next round was ended with a demoralising feat by Hungary (11-1) in Budapest.

They abstained from the 50 games but returned

Australian coach Jim Shoulder and his Socceroos.
